BIOGRAPHY

PINK PANDA, the fluffy DJ collective originating from the U.K. (est. 2012) have marked themselves as the major labels' go to remixer production outfit and all-round global fun machine. Alongside a strong catalog of official remixes for the likes of Ava Max, Bruno Mars, David Guetta, Dua Lipa, Meduza, P!nk, Sia, Elton John & Britney Spears, these Pandas continue pushing their signature sound and reputation forward.

Since first entering the Top 100 DJs Poll in 2020, they've built out their genuinely impressive remix discography and have shown they're more than able to excel in many genres, turning out big, bright house, epic main stage anthems, thumping electro-house or UK bounce & donk.

Their unique widely embraced inclusive stage presence and sonic wall-of-sound has brought them to very many dancefloors around the globe. With extensive tours in Australia, Southeast Asia & China, headline Festival shows at Creamfields Bangkok, Taipei, Hong Kong, Beijing & Xiamen, they've opened the door to Europe by collaborating with Benny Benassi & Alle Farben on their first single of 2024 named Set You Free.

Next to that, PINK PANDA have also been focusing on developing new talent via their very own label imprint Bambooty Records. The collective has collaborated with artists like Beauz, Ray Ray, Jeffrey Sutorius, Elize, Beave, BIGMOO, Nadim & AmeliaCee.

As they continue to merge the worlds of pop and dance with a seemingly unstoppable slew of original tunes, major collaborations, energizing remixes, and high-profile shows, music lovers from all over the world have fully embraced PINK PANDA's extravagantly colourful stage presence while the industry's increasing demand for PINK PANDA's feelgood vibe and heartfelt inclusive message grows by the day. The highly anticipated energetic shows are here to stay, and the Pandas are ready to spread the love.
